

October 23, 1941: The Black Corps newspaper is upset over the fact that a Swedish professor named Herbert Tingsten has given a lecture concerning the race problem, and during the lecture he said the difference between a Swede and a Negro existed only in the skin color. He said that simply through education a black child could become a completely acceptable Swedish citizen.

The Swedish professor--with whom I completely agree--has stepped into a Nazi wasp nest, and the answer of the Black Corps is clear and unmistakable. Among other things Mr. Newspaper Editor writes: 'If today anyone goes up against our race theory we cannot but consider this as a political aggression against National Socialism.'

This editor and the Nazis are completely incapable of realizing that every race can be changed to a completely equal family of nations by emancipation—as this has come about in North America in relation to the Negro race. If certain Germans consider other races as without value, then this has its source only in a sick arrogance.
